Trowel Victorian large ash handle 140mm

The shape of the blade is made after oldstyle Victorian design. And it's more than a design, the shape makes it to a nice planthole digger. The blade starts small en by going deeper in the soil the blade is getting wider. So less resistance in the beginning of digging the holes. The cuttingedge is very sharp, and the handgrip is made from Ash. Finished in the original DeWit style.
